ABOUT ME

As a software engineer with 4.5 years of experience in the fin-tech and retail domain, I am a highly skilled front-end developer with expertise in JavaScript, ES6/7, ReactJS, Redux, Redux Saga, and Bootstrap. My background in delivering top-quality software products has equipped me with a deep understanding of the software development process, from conceptualisation and design to implementation and deployment.

With my experience in ReactJS and related technologies, I have a proven track record of building user-friendly, scalable, and high-performing web applications. My strong ability to write clean, maintainable, and testable code using modern JavaScript and React best practices has helped me to deliver high-quality software products that meet the needs of a diverse range of users.

with my expertise in front-end development and my passion for delivering high-quality software products, I am confident in my ability to contribute to the success of any project.
